Notes for LUDWIG HEINRICH RIEDESEL:

Born in Bergmanns/Gabels Haus, Wunderthausen. Believed to have left for America around 1855. According to family recollections, he came first to New Orleans and worked his way up the Mississippi as a mason and well-digger until he reached Davenport, IA. He may also be the "Ludwig Riedesel" who arrived at the port of Baltimore on the ship Duisburg out of Bremen on May 23, 1857. This man was supposedly destined for St. Louis.

He and Florentine Schneider (also from Wunderthausen) were married and had their children in Wheatland, but they moved on in 1891 to what became Lanesboro, IA in Carroll County. He was known as Henry in America.
